CARTER CLIMATIC CONTROL COVERS

This may not seem much to some people, but I thought it could be of some interest. The black cover used on 4BC and two 4BC has an arrow that tells which way to turn the cover to lean the carb, choke. But there were covers that had the arrow pointing to the left instead of right. Carter made carbs that were different in their choke arrangement. So you may want to check yours out before your friends read this article. Also the covers were marked telling the temperature of the spring tension and the part number. %170 is your temperature corresponding with your thermostat of %180 or better. I looked up various model numbers that are used on Vettes. 1955 first design 372s = 55 second design 457s = 1956 first design 2366 = 1956 second design 499s = 1957-58 503s,ad-433s,ab-433s = 1959-61 585s,ab-610s these are only one 4BC. 1956-61 are 442s,ab2385, these are two 4BC.
